

LARYNGITIS

BASIC INFORMATION

DESCRIPTION

A minor inflammation of the larynx (voice box) and surrounding tissues, causing temporary hoarseness. It is more common during epidemics of seasonal virus infections (late fall, winter, early spring).

FREQUENT SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

- Hoarseness or loss of voice.
- Sore throat; tickling in the back of the throat.